A. Tan loves nature and goes hiking often. Toward the end of his most recent trip, he turned his ankle on a big rock. Because he was in pain, he set his gear down beside another large rock and carefully put a bandage on his ankle. He knew he must keep his leg up because such injuries could result in swelling. Why does this spot look so familiar? Tan thought. It did not even take a minute for him to remember. It was here that he had turned his ankle two years ago! Well , that's bad luck," he said to himself.
