

Reading Horizons Certified Trainer Description

A Reading Horizons Certified Trainer is a qualified professional that has completed all requirements for application, the application process, and the week-long certification training held in Salt Lake City, Utah. A Reading Horizons trainer is qualified to train on both the Reading Horizons Discovery® and the Reading Horizons Elevate® products. The trainer will be adept at training not only on the methodology, but also on both the processes of direct instruction and the use of the software. Reading Horizons Certified Trainers are the face of the company and must exhibit passion and professionalism in all they do.

Trainers begin as independent contractors and can work with the Training Coordinator to determine the number of trainings they would be available to conduct throughout the year. Travel is usually required, but if the preference is to stay local, that will be considered and accommodated as much as possible. Trainers need to conduct a minimum of two trainings per year for the company in order to maintain their certification.

Reading Horizons Certified Trainers will be provided with continued professional development to maintain their certification and to provide the opportunity to move through levels of trainer status, from beginning to advanced. There are three levels (note that pay is dependent upon level status):
